

Mayor's Message

As July's heat climbs, please take care of your children and senior family members and neighbors vulnerable to heat exhaustion.

In this issue of NewsWire, we share great photos from some of the year's biggest Town events: North Brentwood Day, Trolley Trail Day and Juneteenth. And, we provide info about citizens' achievements, job openings, and more.

NBCA Presents: Back to School & National Night Out!

Tuesday, August 4 | 6 pm to 8 pm
North Brentwood Community Center

Get ready for an unforgettable evening as NBCA brings together two great traditions — our Back-to-School celebration and National Night Out. Expect school supply giveaways, games, food, music, visits from law enforcement and emergency response personnel, and plenty of neighborhood pride!

Bring your family, bring your friends, and let's kick off the school year with excitement and unity. To help organize this important event, contact NBCA.

North Brentwood Day

North Brentwood Day always stirs something special in my heart. As I look around at our community, I cannot help but think about the good old days—the days when neighbors knew one another by name, children played freely from sunrise to sunset, and families gathered on porches to share stories, laughter and fellowship.

Those memories are woven into the fabric of who we are.

I remember the sounds of community life: the voices of elders sharing wisdom, the excitement of Town celebrations, church gatherings, family reunions, and the simple joy of spending time together. Life may not have been perfect, but there was a sense of connection, belonging, and pride that made North Brentwood feel like one big family.

As the years have passed, much has changed. New generations have arrived, new homes built; the world moves at a faster pace. Yet, when we gather on North Brentwood Day, the spirit of long-ago-days returns: including the sacrifices, determination, and vision of those who came before us. They built a community that's endured and flourished for generations since 1924.

Looking at the present, through the lens of our past, fills me with gratitude. I am grateful for elders who laid the foundation, for families who nurtured this Town, and for the countless individuals whose contributions often went unnoticed but were essential to our success. Their legacy lives in every street, every home, every church, and every gathering of neighbors.

Today, I cherish the memories of the good old days, not because I wish to live in the past; but, because those memories remind us of the values that made our community strong—love, unity, resilience, faith, and service to one another. Those values still guide us as we face new challenges and opportunities.

North Brentwood Day is more than a celebration; it's a homecoming of the heart. It allows us to honor our history, celebrate our present, and inspire our collective future.

As we remember the good old days, may we also commit to preserving the spirit that made those days so meaningful, ensuring coming generations will one day look back on this time with the same pride, gratitude and affection we feel today.

The older I become, the more I appreciate that the good old days were not just about the places we lived or the events we attended.

The good old days were about people: the family members, friends, neighbors, and community leaders who touched our lives and shaped our journey. (One such person, Ms. Eleanor Traynham, who recently passed away, is profiled on page 8.)

North Brentwood Day gives us the chance to remember and celebrate these people, and carry their legacy forward with pride.

If you did not have a chance to be at the park for the North Brentwood Day celebration, I am hoping you'll join in for other Town events this year. Keep in mind: North Brentwood has a Heritage to Remember and a Future to Mold.

Your Mavor.

North Brentwood Joins Regional Trolley Trail Event

By: Councilmember Jacqueline Morales

Town of North Brentwood proudly joined the communities of College Park, Riverdale Park, Hyattsville, Brentwood, and Mount Rainier, on Saturday, June 13, to celebrate Trolley Day.

The annual event highlights Rhode Island Avenue Trolley Trail's growing connection to the region's trail network. Our hub was located in Entrepreneur Park.

North Brentwood's trail stop was organized by Evan Dame, Councilmember and VP of the North Brentwood Historical Society, with support NBHS members: Diane Braddock, President; Jackie Morales, Treasurer; Robbin Queen, Secretary, and Una Palmer.

Visitors explored North Brentwood's rich history through photographs of residents past and present.

A highlight of the day was the participation of Stefan Woehlke, from University of MD's School of Architecture, Planning and Preservation. Woehlke displayed artifacts uncovered during the 2022 archaeological dig at the site of the Henry Randall House (built in 1892); he discussed ongoing research conducted by his students.

In addition to activities offered at stops along the Route 1 Corridor, North Brentwood's local businesses provided unique contributions:

- Material Things Studio's hands-on clay activity delighted families all day.
- Dr. Cecil Boyd, of African American Café, offered a generous 20% discount on food for Trolley Trail-goers.

The event brought together residents, visitors and trail users from across the region, offering a meaningful glimpse into North Brentwood's heritage — while strengthening community ties along the historic trolley route.

North Brentwood Day Photos

On Saturday, June 20, residents, family, friends, and dignitaries met at North Brentwood Park, from 12 to 5 pm, to celebrate the 102nd anniversary of the Town's incorporation.

The community-wide celebration featured live entertainment by Chang Band, face painting, vendors, and food trucks by Seafood Boss and African American Café. More pics are on our website:

Juneteenth in North Brentwood

On Friday, June 19, from 5 pm to 7 pm, citizens of Brentwood and North Brentwood gathered at Windom Road Barrier Park, at 3814 Windom Road in Brentwood, MD.

Mayors Petrella Robinson and Rocio Treminio-Lopez led a celebration of Black history and culture and community; attendees enjoyed soul food and live music by North Brentwood's Pan Masters Steel Orchestra. More Juneteenth pics will soon be on our website: northbrentwood.com/juneteenth.

North Brentwood Named MML Banner Town

We're proud to share the Town of North Brentwood has, once again, been recognized as a Banner Town by the Maryland Municipal League (MML)! The 2026 designees were announced at MML's Summer Conference.

This special recognition honors towns and cities with ongoing commitment to municipal excellence, leadership, and civic engagement throughout the year.

It means North Brentwood continues to show up, speak up and lead by example, not just locally; but, across the state. It reflects the dedication of our Mayor, Town Council, staff, and residents in sustaining a government that's responsive, informed and community-driven.

MML Summer Conference

Each year, North Brentwood's Mayor, and select elected officials and staff attend Maryland Municipal League's Summer Conference. It's the largest single annual event dedicated to the unique educational and professional development needs of Maryland's municipal leaders, staff and local governments.

Session panels, mobile workshops and interactive presentations provide best practices from municipal colleagues. Attendees access state officials, such as Lt. Governor Aruna Miller (pictured on left), and learn the latest solutions from partners in insurance, cybersecurity, healthcare, transportation, and other industry experts.

Attendees from North Brentwood recently returned from the June conference. More photos from the conference, and Maryland Black Mayor's networking event, "Power and Purpose," also in OC, are on the next page.

Mayor's Message about MML Conference 2026

As Mayor of North Brentwood, I'm proud to share our Public Works team represented the Town at this year's Maryland Municipal League Conference in Ocean City.

MML remains the only statewide organization composed exclusively of municipal officials and dedicated to strengthening every branch of municipal administration. Through its advocacy, education, and information-sharing, MML ensures that Maryland's municipal leaders and staff have resources to deliver exceptional service to our communities.

This year, Greg Butler and Anthony Avents attended a specialized course offered by the Maryland Municipal Public Works Officials Association. The training provided an invaluable opportunity to deepen their expertise, learn directly from subject matter experts, and build relationships with colleagues from municipalities across the state.

During the session, they examined practical strategies for sourcing projects efficiently: approaches that help save time and taxpayer dollars. The team also gained insight into how well-crafted contracts can prevent delays and keep essential projects on track. This training directly informs how our Public Works team performs every day on behalf of North Brentwood.

One of the key takeaways was the benefits of mutual aid. In an environment where state/federal emergency funding is never guaranteed, municipalities must be prepared to rely on one another. Understanding how to coordinate with neighboring towns (with capacity to assist during crises) is essential to maintaining continuity of operations and protecting our residents.

The team also strengthened their project management skills, learning techniques to ensure municipal projects are delivered on time, within scope, and are aligned with the Town's long-term vision. Equally important,

they explored best practices for keeping residents informed throughout each stage of a project—reinforcing our commitment to transparency, accountability and trust. I commend our Public Works team for their dedication and for bringing this expertise home to serve the people of North Brentwood.

Our Town's investment in professional development is a future asset. The knowledge gained at MML will support more efficient operations, stronger regional partnerships, and improved service delivery for our community.

Pepco's June Price Increase Explained

FROM PEPCO—As temperatures rise, so does demand for electricity. Pepco is committed to supporting our customers during a time of higher energy bills, while still maintaining safety and keeping lights on across Maryland. Part of our commitment is transparency – and we're here to help customers understand seasonal changes to their monthly bill. A bill is broken down between supply (things that generate the actual power, like a power plant) and distribution (things that deliver the actual energy, like power lines).

Starting June 1, customers saw a few changes:

$13 electric PJM supply increase: compared to summer 2025. It is important to note that Pepco does not generate electricity or set supply prices. This is the cost of the electricity itself, which Pepco passes through to customers at cost. Each year, Pepco buys electricity for customers through competitive auctions with wholesale suppliers. The new SOS rates reflect the results of this year's auction, approved by the MD Public Service Commission. Demand for energy in our region is growing, while available supply decreased, contributing to higher supply costs.

$7 surcharge increase: compared to summer 2025 due to EmPOWER Maryland surcharge changes and other local taxes. EmPOWER MD supports energy efficiency programs and helps customers save energy and money: maryland.gov/Pages/Facts/empower.aspx.

Your distribution charge will also switch to summer rates. This rate, which appears in the "delivery" part of your bill will remain the same as last summer, but summer rates are higher than the winter rates.

Summer Energy Savings Tips

- Close curtains to block out sun/keep rooms cool.
- Raise thermostat by 1 degree to save up to 3%.
- Wash laundry in cold water when you can.
- Turn off unneeded lights/appliances giving off heat.

Honoring Eleanor F. Traynham: Dedicated Leader in North Brentwood

Ms. Eleanor F. Traynham (a legend in North Brentwood) passed away on June 28, 2026 in Florida.

There will be a Memorial Service on Friday, July 31, at New Mount Nebo Baptist Church, at 7501 Walker Mill Rd, Capitol Heights. Church opens at 10 am; service begins at 11 am.

We extend our deepest sympathy to her family, who are also significant parts of North Brentwood history.

North Brentwood proudly recognizes Eleanor Traynham's legacy; she was a devoted public servant whose commitment helped strengthen our community for many years. Mrs. Traynham faithfully served the Town as a Councilmember, and later as Town Clerk, where she was known for her professionalism, integrity and dedication to preserving the business and history of North Brentwood.

Through years of service, she helped Town government remain responsive, organized and focused on the needs of its residents. Beyond her official duties, Eleanor Traynham was a community builder – instrumental in establishing and supporting local organizations that bring neighbors together, encourage civic participation, and preserve the rich heritage of North Brentwood.

Her leadership reflected a deep love for the Town and a belief that strong communities are built through service and collaboration.

Eleanor Traynham's contributions continue to inspire those who serve today. Her legacy reminds us that lasting change is often achieved through quiet dedication, steadfast leadership, and an unwavering commitment to community versus just one's self or family.

The Town of North Brentwood is grateful for Eleanor F. Traynham's years of faithful service and honors her as one of the many individuals whose leadership helped shape the history and future of our remarkable Town.

Eleanor Traynham: a Tribute by Sidney Thomas

My aunt, Eleanor Traynham, passed away June 28 at the age of 90. She was a legend in North Brentwood: remembered for her many contributions to our Town, including helping to found the Prince George's African-American Museum and Cultural Center.

Online Remembrances

She was cherished by many people including her parents, Margaret Francine Johnson and James Curtis Thomas. To share a memory or photo, or to plant a tree in Ms. Traynham's name, visit altman-long.com/obituaries/Eleanor-F-Traynham?obId=48912163.

More Info Coming in August

In 2017, Ms. Traynham was interviewed by Channel 4 for a piece about Black History Month — and her work to preserve Black culture in North Brentwood. Look for a more in-depth profile about Ms.

Traynham's life and work in the August newsletter.

Arthur J. Dock Honored on 95th Birthday

By: Councilmember Jacqueline Morales

North Brentwoodians gathered, on June 28, for a surprise party to celebrate the 95th birthday of Town icon Arthur J. Dock — North Brentwood’s 13th Mayor and one of its most influential educators.

Mr. Dock was born in Washington, DC in 1931 and raised in North Brentwood. He served as Mayor from 1993 to 1995 and remains a beloved figure whose impact continues to shape the community.

Friends, neighbors, colleagues, classmates, former students, and Godchildren gathered to honor a man whose influence spans generations. Among them was Bettye Queen, Dock’s classmate from Lakeland High School’s last graduating class; she helped recognize his lifelong commitment to learning and service.

A Teacher Who Made a Difference

Six former students from Dock’s years teaching at Sojourner Truth attended the celebration, sharing heartfelt stories of his dedication. Their remarks made it clear Mr. Dock instilled discipline, pride and a strong sense of self-worth in his students — qualities that stayed with them long after leaving his classroom.

A Resolution of Appreciation

Mayor Petrella Robinson presented Mr. Dock with a resolution acknowledging his service as an educator, mentor, veteran, and civic leader: his contributions to North Brentwood has shaped many lives in our Town.

Tributes from Fellow Educators

The sons of renowned educator Joseph Parker also attended the party, describing Dock as “super smart,” a “scientific intellectual,” and a teacher who cared deeply about student success. One son recalled struggling with a science project until Mr. Dock arrived at his home with everything needed to create a standout submission that later appeared in The Washington Post. They also fondly noted his exceptional typing skills, which kept him from combat during his service in the United States Army.

A Godfather’s Devotion

Tre Coatley spoke movingly about the depth of Dock’s commitment to others: he helped raise (and continues to guide and support) five generations of his family.

A Legacy Celebration

The program was organized in part by the Hayes family and Debbie Bellows, former Councilmember and granddaughter of former Mayor William J. Bellows (1967–1999). Their involvement underscored the continuity of leadership and the enduring pride shared across generations in North Brentwood.

The gathering was more than a birthday party — it was a tribute to a man who has given so much to North Brentwood. As attendees reflected, Arthur J. Dock’s legacy is one of scholarship, service, mentorship, and unwavering dedication to the community he loves.

Town of North Brentwood Announces Traffic Calming Improvements on Allison Street

By: Town Manager Shelley Dorsey-Washington

Keeping Our Neighborhood Safe

The Mayor and Town Council of North Brentwood are committed to protecting the safety and well-being of our residents, pedestrians and visitors.

As part of this commitment, the Town intends to install speed humps along Allison Street to address ongoing public safety concerns related to excessive speeding and motorists failing to stop at posted stop signs.

Over the past several months, the Town Office has received concerns from residents regarding unsafe driving behavior on Allison Street. Excessive speeds and repeated stop sign violations create unnecessary risks for families, children, pedestrians, cyclists, and motorists traveling through the neighborhood.

Why Speed Humps?

Traffic calming measures, such as speed humps, are widely recognized as an effective way to:

- Reduce vehicle speeds in residential neighborhoods.
- Improve pedestrian safety.
- Encourage compliance with stop signs and other traffic control devices and signage.
- Enhance the overall quality of life for residents by creating safer streets.

Installation of speed humps is intended to encourage drivers to slow down, and operate vehicles more safely while traveling through our community.

What Residents Can Expect

The Town will work with a qualified contractor to install the speed humps in accordance with applicable engineering standards.

We expect this work to commence late July or early August — advance notice will be provided before construction begins.

Every effort will be made to minimize disruptions to residents and traffic during the installation process.

Temporary traffic delays or lane closures may occur while work is underway. We appreciate the community's patience and cooperation during this important safety improvement project.

Our Commitment to Public Safety

The safety of our residents remains one of the Town's highest priorities. The installation of speed humps on Allison Street is part of an ongoing effort (e.g., speed cameras) to create safer streets, reduce dangerous driving behaviors, and protect everyone who lives, works and travels in North Brentwood.

We encourage all motorists to:

- Obey posted speed limits.
- Come to a complete stop at all signs.
- Watch for pedestrians, pets and cyclists.
- Drive carefully in residential neighborhoods everywhere.

Working together, we can make North Brentwood's streets safer for everyone.

For additional information about this project, please stop by the North Brentwood Town Office, at 4009 Wallace Road, or email your comments to: townmanager@northbrentwood.com.
